

AST 104, Undergraduate Astronomy Seminar
Course Description and Syllabus – Fall 2013

Instructor: Dr. Edward L. Robinson
Dept. of Astronomy, UT
elr301@astro.as.utexas.edu
Office: RLM 17.318
Office Hours: Wednesday, 11:00 - Noon
Other hours by appointment

Unique Number: 48515
Lecture Time: Wed 2:00 PM
Lecture Location: RLM 15.216B
Prerequisite: None
Textbook: None

Course Description: This class is intended for current and prospective Astronomy majors. Its purpose is to introduce some of the research being done in the UT Austin astronomy program, and the faculty, research staff, and graduate students doing the research. The course consists of guest lectures, typically by a different person each week. The lectures will cover a variety of topics.

For information on Department policies and courses, see <http://www.as.utexas.edu/astronomy/education/ugradstudies.html>
and especially
<http://www.as.utexas.edu/astronomy/education/memo.html>

Students with disabilities may request appropriate academic accommodations from the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement, Services for Students with Disabilities, 471-6259.

Course Grade: Course can be taken only as pass/fail. Grades will be based on attendance, which will be taken at random times during the semester.